IN MEMORIAM

NOBLESSE OBLIGE

De l'aube à crépuscule de vie
 La journée de l'homme dans cette
 Vallée de larmes, que c'est remplie
 De charmes que souvent on regrette!
 N'écoute mon âme ces voix funestes—
 Appels venant de mainte Circe—
 Détours de la route céleste.
 Ce qui empêche le pas chrétien
 D'atteindre le seul terme de vie
 Marqué par loi divine et tout ce
 Que Sainte Église enseigne
 Mépris de tout ton cœur.
 Souviens-toi, fils adoptif de Dieu
 La grandeur de ta dignité:
 Tu es soldat du Christ
 Doué de grâce de vraie Nobilité
 Le Pain des Anges souvent reçu
 Te fait un homme royal:
 Il coule en toi Sang Précieux;
 Tiens-toi en fils loyal.

In 1963, Brother Benignus wrote "Noblesse Oblige," which reminds the Christian that his nobility as an adopted son of God carries with it the obligation to shun the superficial pleasures of this life that distract him from the real joys of the next. Like any good teacher, Brother Benignus, by his own life, showed his students how they could follow the advice he gave in his poem.

BROTHER BENIGNUS, C.F.X. (1893-1963)

On January 6, a month after Brother Benignus' Golden Jubilee of December 4, Xaverian High School mourned the loss of this teacher and friend. Thousands of young men were influenced by Brother during his fifty years of service as a teacher and superior in various American schools and as a General Counselor to the Xaverian Superior General in Rome. Wherever stationed, Brother Benignus impressed those who knew him by his unwavering devotion to the Christian vocation, as expressed by him in "Noblesse Oblige." Just as he had asked that his Jubilee Mass be celebrated in "grateful humility and humble gratitude" for his half century as a Xaverian Brother, the Brothers and students who had known him in these fifty years prayed, at his passing, in "humble gratitude" to God for the inspiration that Brother Benignus brought in the classroom and in his whole life as a perfect religious and a fulfilled human being.

MEDARD
PRINCIPAL

and inspiration to industry sets sail with his seniors.

Principal of Xaverian High School since 1959, Brother Medard assumed this office only two years after the establishment of the school. Thus, it was his task to guide it through what was probably its most decisive period—the critical formative years when precedents were set and policies decided, a time that decided whether the school would become a vital part of the community or whether it would merely be accepted. In short, it was Brother Medard's task to realize the high objectives and lofty ideals on which the new school had been founded.

Now, at the end of six years, Brother Medard's role as principal is over, his work completed. But his accomplishments within that brief span are indeed impressive. Under his leadership Xaverian High School has become known and respected throughout New York; its graduates study at colleges among the finest in the nation.

Though the name of Brother Medard may be heard less frequently as the years pass away, his contribution to Xaverian will always be remembered. In grateful acknowledgement of the unselfish devotion with which he labored for this cause, we, the graduating class dedicate this 1965 Clipper to Brother Medard.

Before his installment as Bishop of Brooklyn in 1957, Bryan J. McEntegart served for four years as rector of the Catholic University of America. His Excellency's service to the Church, though, has also included extensive work for Catholic charitable and social organizations. Since his appointment, Bishop McEntegart has successfully undertaken a broad school building program throughout the diocese. His success and example have won the admiration of student and parent alike.

Leader in Catholic education— the hope of tomorrow.

MOST REVEREND BRYAN J. McENTEGART, D.D.
Bishop of Brooklyn

BROTHER KYRIN, C.F.X.
Assistant Principal

A friend who radiates confidence and concern.

In his three years as Assistant Principal, Brother Kyrin has improved Xaverian's standards both indirectly through his work on the administration and directly through his personal contact with the students. Although Brother spends most of his day in the office, he considers working among the students his real apostolate; by treating the student with the highest respect, he is able to gain the confidence of the student.

Brother's main academic interest is English, and he conducts a seminar for Advanced Placement English students. He has also done his best to impress the students with the importance of reading—an importance fully realized only after College Board returns. Thus, though he is theoretically confined to administrative and clerical work, Brother Kyrin's personal ideals and influence are strongly felt throughout the student body.

WEDNESDAY

SATURDAY

TIME MARCHES ON FOR . . . The Active student . . . an opportunity to participate . . . worthwhile hours spent . . . cultivating nascent talents.

CALLED IN FOR CONSULTATION . . . Gerry McCann, Bill Fennell and Joe Sturges go over details for a coming dance with Brother DeMontfort.

A HAPPY PAIR . . . Brother Gavril, Coordinator of the SAC-sponsored Xaverian Brothers Auxiliary Drive, congratulates leading student Gabriel Ariola on his achievement and his reward.

Considered the most intricate school-related activity, the Student Activity Council fosters a greater student-administration relationship. Under the direction of an able executive board, SAC once again has proven that a program consisting of athletic, cultural, religious and social events contributes to a well-rounded school curriculum.

THE 1965 SAC LOOK

The executive board of SAC sits for a portrait after a meeting.

HAIL TO THE CHIEF . . . President Tom Minchin addresses the student body at a SAC assembly.

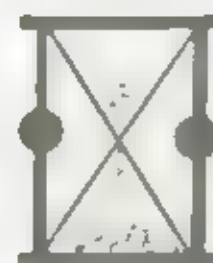

Points of Order

HELPING HANDS Class representatives gather the day's harvest during SAC's Thanksgiving Food Drive. Joe Porpiglia, Tony Caccapio, Andy Santoli and John Coyle worked hard to make the Drive a success.

"YOU'LL GET A BANG OUT OF THIS ONE" . . . the photographer promised. Pete and Bill persuaded Brother Michael to take a break from his typing and pose for a final shot.

"WHERE TO NEXT?" . . . asks Brother Michael as the reporters discuss a previous press conference attended at Fordham University early in the term.

AS A DEADLINE APPROACHES . . . Steve Daly, Don Lyles, and Sal Chisaramida put the paper together.

TALENTED ASSEMBLY . . . Anthony Carrelli, the Islanders, the Rebels, Rich Bruno, Timothy Gillen, and Joe Solensky gather for a picture after the annual talent assembly.

*"LOOK AT THE BRIGHT SIDE" . . . says Dr. Malatesta to bring a smile to lovely Norina's face in the Metropolitan Opera Studio production of Don Pasquale, given in the school auditorium last fall.*

Assemblies

"WE FACE A CRISIS IN AFRICA" . . . exclaims Brother Cyprian, C.F.X., upon beginning a talk on the Brothers' work in modern Africa.

SO YOU'RE TALLER THAN I AM . . . Tom Scialani gets a threatening look from his presidential opponent, Dave Naman.

The purpose of the elections at Xaverian High School is to give the students a chance to participate in a democratic process similar to our national elections. It is hoped that this will instill in them an appreciation of the right of every U.S. citizen to vote. This year the election committee under George Ellard's direction performed exceedingly well in supervising the procedure of voting in which each student had to surrender his identification card before voting. The success of this election can be attested to by the fact that a large number of the student body took part

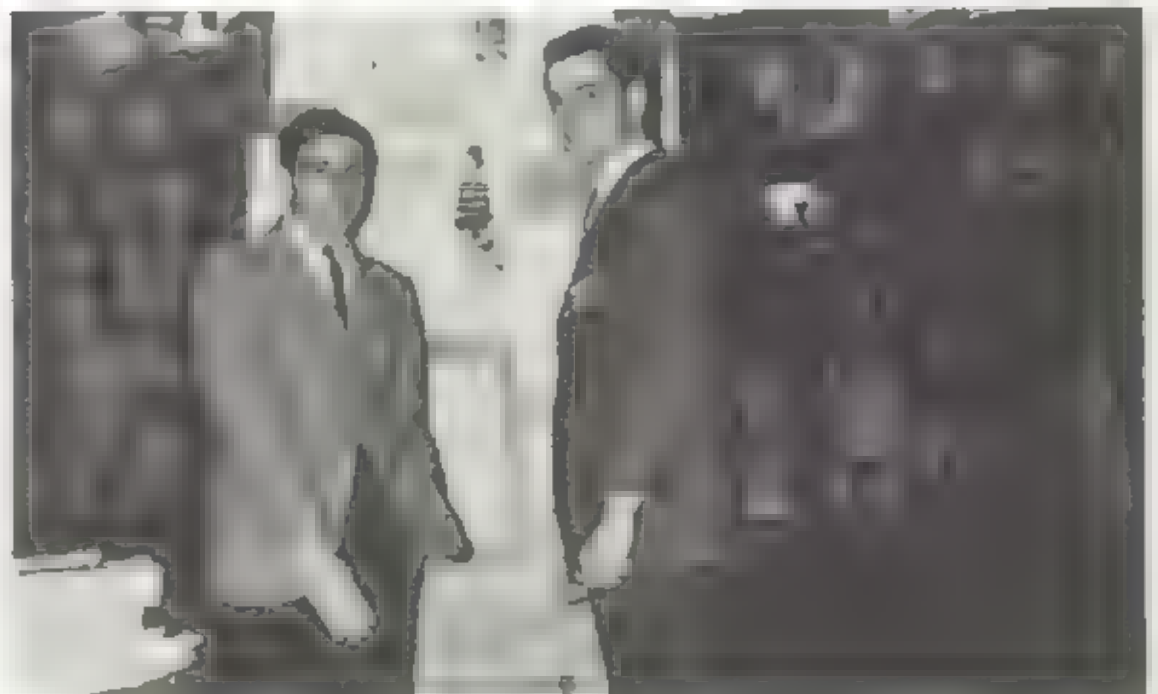

I NOMINATE . . . Joe Gillespie places his candidate's name in nomination as anxious candidates look on.

REMEMBER, VOTE FOR ME . . . Ken Jasinski draws a smile from his 1st Vice-Presidential opponent, Tom Guzzo.

Elections

COME ON, SMILE . . . The two candidates for Secretary, Steve Casolaro and Mark Morales, flash a politician's smile.

HAI HAI YOU WIN . . . Lou Catti gets a kick out of Dennis Hansen's prediction about the 2nd Vice-Presidential election.

FRIENDS DESPITE WHAT HAPPENS . . . Candidates for Historian, Bob Harrington and Fred Lizz, pose for a pre-election photo.

TAKE YOUR TIME . . . quips Bill Meyers as Brother Angelus tries to assist him at the polls.

HEY! THEY'RE TAKING OUR PICTURE . . . John Ferraro remarks as his opponent for Treasurer, Ed Assile, extends best wishes.

Continuing a tradition of excellence

Drama

THE ACTORS PAUSE FOR A PICTURE . . . (l. to r.) R. Bruno, L. Picaro, T. Keating, R. Forni, H. Martin, R. Licata, M. Billings, B. Montagnino, J. Caliendo, W. Martin, D. McMahon.

HOW ABOUT GETTING TOGETHER AFTER RE-HEARSAL . . . says Billy Martin, and Jo Caliendo seems to like the idea.

YOU CAN'T GET ME OFF THE STAGE THAT EASY . . . says Rich Licata as Tom Keating threatens with his cane. Meanwhile, Howard Martin takes off his hat to Regina Forni.

. . . time out for talent

STOP PULLING MY LEG . . . exclaims Richard Licata as Howard Martin helps him with his foot.

IT'S SO NICE TO HAVE YOU BACK WHERE YOU BELONG — Tom Keating and Regina Forni welcome Howard Martin

IT MUST BE A KU KLUX KLAN MEETING exclaims Regina Forni as a masked Linda Picaro comes onto the scene

IT'S OF NO USE WITH AN ADORABLE IMP — Cast members attempt to remove a stubborn pet from Kiki Leary's head

HEY, DON'T YOU WATCH THOSE BANANA PEELS? — Company member Howard Martin as Dennis McMahon and Tom Keating look on in amazement

JUST DON'T GET NERVEFRIGHT — advises the director Mr. George Staples, before a performance of The Adorable Imp

'65 RYKENITES . . . The debaters pose with Brother Carl, their moderator.

EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITY? . . . George Ellard, Art McMahon, John Byrne, and Bill Russo discuss some of the fine points of public speaking with some of their opponents.

As a man lives, so will he speak

To the surprise of no one, the year was one of the best, overall, for the Ryken speakers and debaters. The team placed in every league contest consistently, missing out on first by one or two points.

Individually, the team members were equally successful. Art McMahon, George Ellard and John Byrne took many awards in extemporaneous and impromptu speaking. William Russo, Michael Lukacovic, Rich Ferruggio and Rich Bruno took trophies in original oratory, with Russo and Ferruggio taking additional awards in humorous interpretation and declamation, respectively. Russ MacKechnie also received laurels for declamation.

SPOILS OF WAR . . . Once more Brother Carl and his Rykenites take home a Catholic Forensic League trophy, this time winning second place.

OUTSTANDING SENIOR SPEAKERS Clockwise: Arthur Mc Mahon, George Ellard, Richard Bruno, contributed much to the Ryken Debating Society's successful season.

Speech and Debate

As Mr. William Jacques has formed outstanding glee clubs in the past, so this year his masterful touch has produced another fine group. Their accomplishments include two concerts performed at the school as well as the annual Festival of Glee Clubs with groups from Mary Louis Academy, Fontbonne Hall, St Simon Stock, Nazareth High, McClancy High, participating with our own club. They performed at Carnegie Hall and the World's Fair, keeping to their tradition that quality is their most important product

SCALING THE HEIGHTS . . . Glee Clubbers go up and down the scales quickly before they perform

"SIMPLY SUPERB" . . An amazed audience looks on as the Julliard String Quartet completes another outstanding performance

"IL DUCE" . . . Mr. Jacques asserts his leadership as he directs a long, hard practice session

SEASON'S GREETINGS . . . The Glee Club spreads good will toward all men as they raise their voices in the annual Christmas concert.

Glee Club

LUBRICATING THE VOCAL CORDS . Singers stop for lunch on Saturday during the Festival of Glee Clubs weekend.

MOMENTS OF MELODY . . . A new singing group, The Unknowns, deliver a folk song with gusto at the concert.

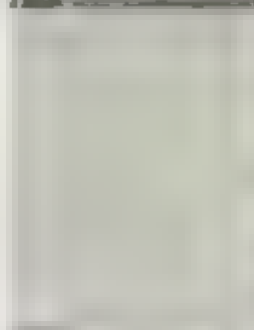

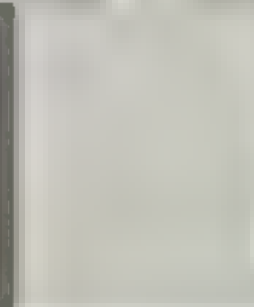

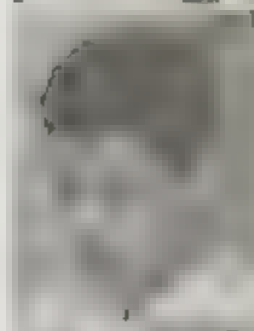

CHIN UP Mr. Jacques encourages his singers before they approach the finale of a robust rendition of one of their songs.

X-Press

As the student body gradually settled into a new fall term, the school quarterly, the X-Press, adopted a new, refreshing policy. For some time a medium for school news along with the Local, the X-Press now came out in a new format, a "quarterly of student fact and opinion."

Brother Benjamin, moderator of the student magazine, and Editor-in-Chief Greg Visconti gave their readers a publication offering an insight into the more important happenings at Xaverian, as well as events outside the school

THE MELTING POT . . . Vin LoPresti and Larry Raccioppo demonstrate some of the ingredients necessary to a successful newspaper.

EDITOR'S CONVENTION . . . The fellows gather in anticipation of the final issue, while Joe and Vinny keep an eye open for the printer.

THE ISSUE AT HAND . . . Greg Viscomi and Brother Benjamin get together for a critical commentary of the finished product.

GET THIS ONE John Bautz and Art Casman call Bill Meyers' attention to some interesting shots that didn't make news outside the office.

"But ne'er so well express'd"

THE FINAL VERDICT . . . Brother Benjamin and next year's editors, Jim McGonigle (c.) and John McBrearty, review the paper's layout with the printer.

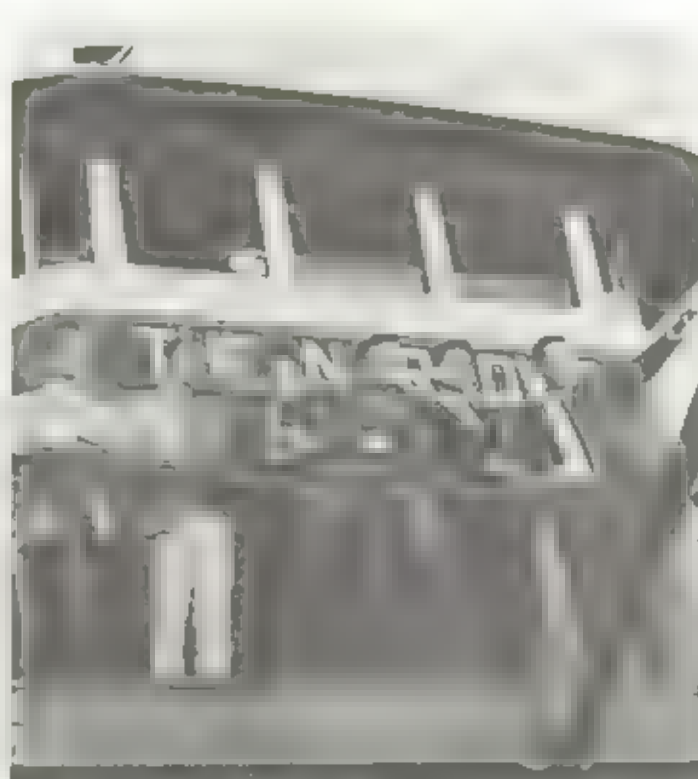

"WHAT ARE YOU WRITING NOW?" . . . Greg Viscomi and Joe Verducci give some advice to Bill Meyers, as all three show concern for a coming deadline.

GOOD SPORTS . . . Sports staff Paul Graffigna, Steve Haley, a friend, and George Silvia gather around coach Steve Arnone as he explains the strategy of their section.

BLACKMAIL FILE . . . Photos of the school's every activity are studied by Introduction editors Arthur Caliman and John Bautz.

A RESTLESS CREW . . . Fall found the Clipper staff on the high seas enroute to Pennsylvania for the Villanova Press Conference.

AND IF YOU DON'T LIKE IT, YOU CAN GET OUT!!! . . . Brother Dean tries, in his usual calm, soft spoken manner, to convince the staff of the importance of meeting deadlines.

CLOSE COOPERATION . . . and careful planning are the keys to smooth sailing on the Clipper's annual journey.

The 1965 Clipper

SHADY CHARACTERS . . . at the Fordham Press Conference, a group of Naxerian participants assemble under the foliage to plan the next round of girl watching . . . and conferences!

THEIR MANTLES VOICE . . . alert hardworking underclass editors Tony Acquesta, Kevin Greene, Greg Frasconaro and Jack D'Emic hang on every word at a Clipper meeting.

Progress, like time, drop by drop . . .

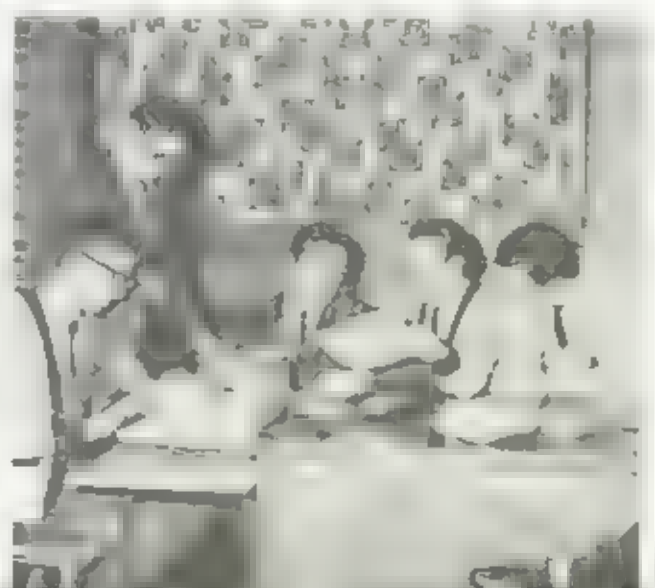

DON'T FENCE ME IN . . . sitting out for a rest at the Villanova Press Conference, the Clipper staff representatives display the energy and determination that kept them working hard all year.

SENIOR SYNDICATE . . . the tide of photos rises around Senior Section editors Mike Caraldo, Charlie Barbiero and Tony Maglio as the year wears on.

THE PULSE OF THE SCHOOL . . . is taken by the Activities staff who tirelessly pursue the after school events during the year.

TWO GRAND LIDS . . . Brother Ramon and Echo editor Bob Murray (both from the same county) suffer several moments of great mental anguish over the current state of the French publication L'Echo Francais.

WHY HOPPEN TO YOU . . . Effervescent Mr. Garcia points out the finer qualities of La Voz Hispanica to a smiling mon ami, as the Voz staff, Jim Burns, Ely Dau and Steve Lopez enjoy their work.

L'Echo Francais

La Voz Hispanica

IT CAN'T BE THAT BAD . . . Brother Ramon, Vin LoPresti, Ralph Torrillo, John Vattovaz and Joe Gallagher try to console a dejected Greg Visconti.

EL CIRCULO ESPANOL . . . Cornered in their native surroundings, the members of the Spanish Club huddle for a charla at one of their weekly meetings.

Dances . . . hours of enjoyment

HAPPY DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN . . . Social Chairman Jim Harrington dazzles his partner with his fancy footwork

SITTING ONE OUT . . . a star-studded table erupts in merriment as the falling balloons herald the climax of an enjoyable evening

SMILE THOUGH YOUR FEET ARE ACHING . . .
Tom Minchin, right, seems to be suffering the effects of a hard night on the dance floor.

THE EYES HAVE IT . . . sheer delight, coquettish cunning and hero worship are expressed in the faces of three enchanted couples.

A HELPING HAND . . . Jim Harrington assists Jeff
Syracuse in carrying out the tedious task of decorating for one of the Clipper Club's social events.

CENTER OF ATTENTION . . . Tom Maschin captivates his audience with brisk repartee as Brian Murphy pursues his own interests.

FAST MOVIN' FEET . . . Pete Donahoe and Tom Guzzo demonstrate two contemporary native rituals.

Xaverian Circle

"HOLD IT STEADY, WILL YA, JOE?" . . . Joe Solensky gets a helping hand from Robert Suena as interested fathers look on. The Father-Son Communion Breakfast held in the gym, was one of the many activities sponsored by the Xaverian Circle.

BIG WHEELS IN THE CIRCLE . . . Officers of the Xaverian Circle: Front Row: Mrs. J. Harrington, Mrs. W. Meyers, Brother Armand, Mr. J. R. Morgan (President), Brother Medard, Mrs. J. Sturges, Mrs. A. Seuma, and Mrs. E. Matthews. Second Row: Mr. C. Gilmurray, Mr. J. Savarese, Mr. W. Murray, Mr. J. Siragusa, Mr. M. Bruno, Mr. L. Hunkela, Mr. J. Brady, Mr. A. Frontera, Mr. W. Fitzpatrick, and Dr. G. Silva.

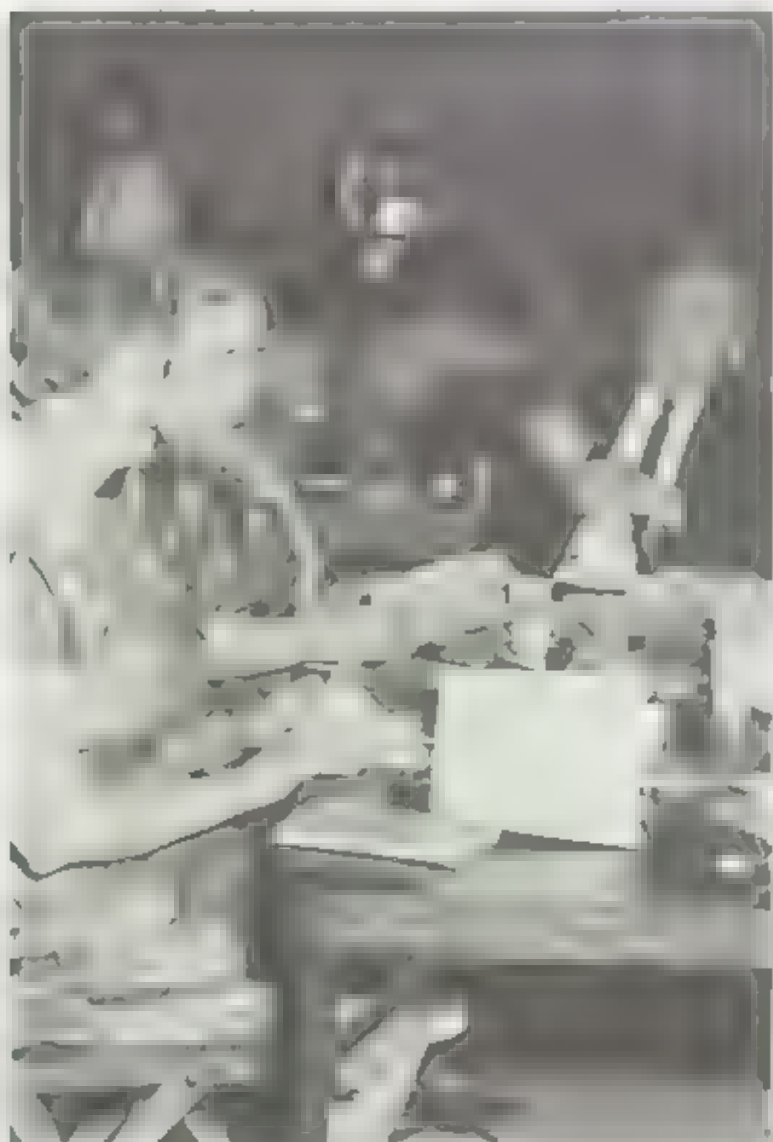

"SHOULD I, OR SHOULDN'T I?" . . . A guest is apparently contemplating her next move while her partner is picking up refreshments. The Card Party was the Circle's last social event of the school year.

A HARD-EARNED TRIBUTE . . . The Card Party Committee, which had worked arduously to prepare for a very successful card party, smile for a picture.

"... AND IN CONCLUSION, I SHOULD LIKE TO ADD" ... Brother Medard puts the finishing touches on a speech delivered at the Father-Son Communion Breakfast

"LET'S CUT OUT THE READING AND PLAY A GAME OF BRIDGE" ... Parents seem to be enjoying themselves at the Card Party held in the gym.

The Xaverian Circle, whose main objective is to promote cooperation among sons, parents and teachers, has once again enjoyed a most prosperous year. The Circle sponsored such activities as the Father-Son Night, the Parents Social, the Communion Breakfast, Teas for Freshman and Senior mothers, and the Annual Card Party. The obviously congenial relationship, resulting from so many successful school related activities throughout the year, represents the intangible effect of the Circle's efforts

"HAIL, HAIL, THE GANG'S ALL HERE" ... Fathers stop for refreshments in between acts held on Father-Son Night.

"... AND FOR MY NEXT NUMBER ..." Brother Armand looks on as Mr. J. R. Morgan leaves the microphone after delivering a speech at the Senior Mothers' Tea.

THE MEN BEHIND THE SCENES . . . Top, Ed Latimer, Nick Siragusa, John Curry, Jim Musumeci. Bottom, Andy Najberg, Ken Burtis, and George Gawrys.

Camera Club

"A single picture is worth a thousand words." The Clipper '65 is a living testament to the truth of this statement. If this yearbook is the living record of the year's past deeds and events, then truly the members of the Camera staff are the very eyes of the school. Perhaps, in the relentless quest for perfection they have spent too much time behind the camera and not enough in front of it. Now, as the school year ends we can only hope to thank them sincerely and dedicate this page to them alone, who have dedicated themselves to every other page of this book.

Mathematics Club

YOUR THEORY IS IRRELEVANT . . .
Pete Lowney challenges Jeff Olsen's complex mathematical proof.

Chess Club

THE KING AND HIS PAWNS . . . Brother Elroy and members of the Chess Club pose before the scene of many a battle of wits

Champions of Brooklyn-Queens Catholic High School Chess League

ALL THE KING'S MEN . . . Jim McGonigle, Chris Harrington, Carl Fehlandt, and John Gardella sharpen their wits during a practice session

Science Fair

THE SECRETS OF SCIENCE . . . Mr. Milazzo and Brother Lucas enjoy Les Hunkle's reaction to the "Snooper" project entered in the school Science Fair. Jerry Rao looks on with interest

IT SOUNDS GOOD . . . Brother Medard studies "The Harmonics of Sound," Anthony Acquista's Grand-Prize-winning entry.

SOME DAY MY PRINTS WILL COME . . . Ed Latimer explains his exhibit on "Photography" to students.

PLUMBING THE DEPTHS OF MATTER . . .
George Silvis and Pete DiConza impress the on-lookers with their deft handling of their experiment.

GETTING A REAL CHARGE OUT OF IT . . .
Richard Reese's project holds the judge's interest as he carefully observes a chemical transformation by means of an electric current.

In this year's Science Fair, held in the school cafeteria, over forty projects were exhibited. The winner of the Grand Award was Anthony Acquista, with his project "The Effects of Harmonics on Sound"; he was the first Junior ever to win the Grand Award. The first place winners in the individual divisions were: Seniors George Silvis and Peter DiConza with their demonstration of detergent making, Junior Timothy Gillen with Operation I.C.E., and Freshman Brian Ahlstrom with the Brine Shrimp project. Their achievements were recognized and awards presented at the awards assembly on the last day of school.

COACH'S COMMENT ON THE SEASON

"The win-loss record means little because these kids fought hard all season. The team, made up of many juniors, lost three games in overtime due to the lack of height."

Mr. John Woods

PUTTING HIS BEST FOOT FORWARD . . . John Ryan breaks fast to score a field goal against a strong team at Ford.

BIG-STEPPER . . . Jerry Kelly tries hard to stop the Loughlin aggressor.

A CLOSE JUMP . . . starts a game against Ford which, after a big rally, we lost in overtime 70-69

BETWEEN PLAYS . . . Coach Woods gets his team ready for the second half against Nazareth.

CONTROLLING THE ACTION . . . John Ryan, in the Varsity's first league game, shows the skill that made him team captain.

THE LONG SHOT . . . Against a taller Loughlin squad, Joe Gillespie is up with another Clipper field goal.

The past Varsity Basketball season can be summed up in two words—disappointment and hope. For even though the Clippers ran into some of the worst breaks imaginable during their mid-season losing streak of eleven games, their spirit never sagged as was evident as they won the last four games of the season, beating some tough clubs.

The season was highlighted by the scoring of captain John Ryan and the defensive work of three juniors, John Conforti, Jim Berg and Lou Dottrina. These three, along with some members of this year's Junior Varsity team, are the reasons we look hopefully to next year's season.

A GOOD START . . . is provided by Lou Dottrina at a home game against St. Augustine.

J.V. Basketball

PUT 'EM UP . . . as our rival Nazareth tries to score against Tracy's defense.

It was teamwork and determination that was discernible this season by the J.V. Basketball team. Their fine ball-handling and speed were among the important factors which contributed to the successful record that the J.V. posted. The main spark in the team was due to the outstanding efforts of Kevin Toohill along with the shrewd playmaking of Tom Kyle. These talents enabled them to receive a city playoff berth.

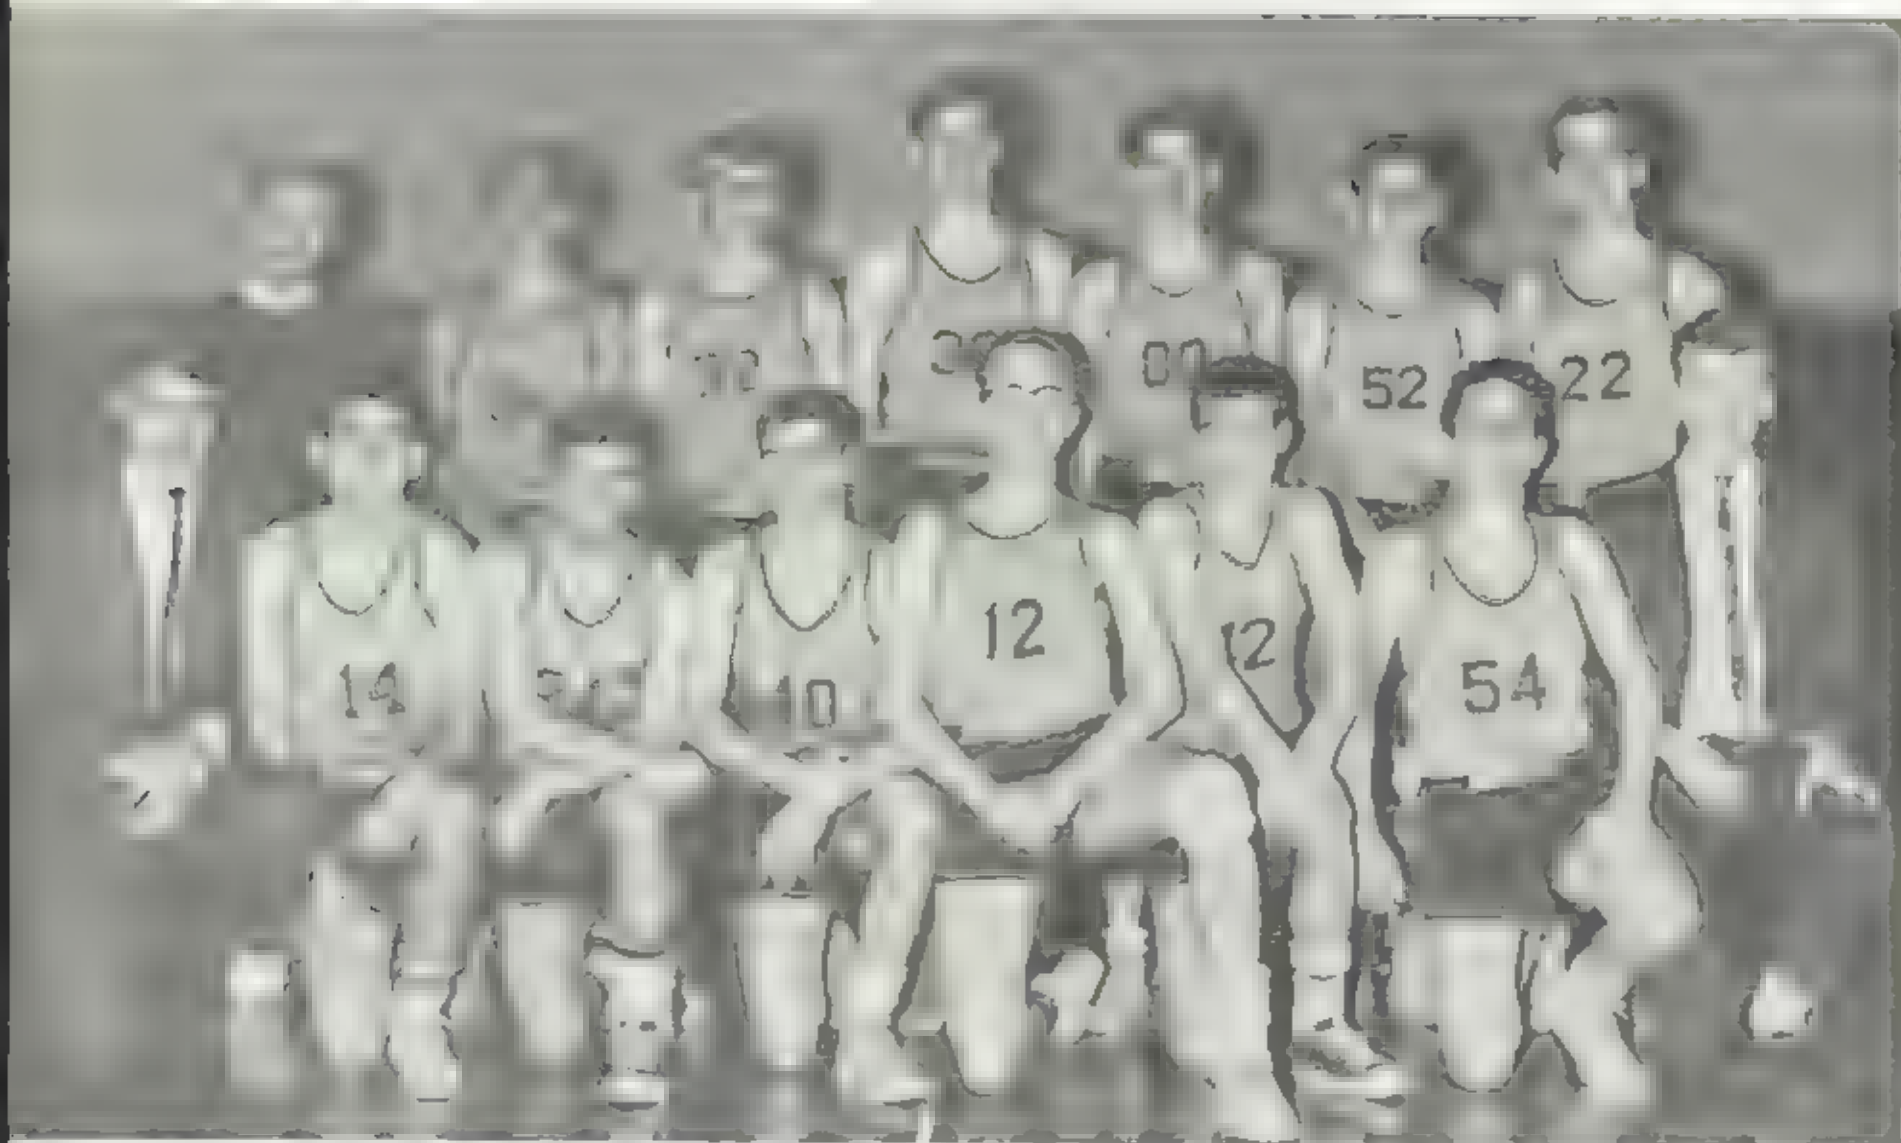

TEAMWORK . . . Bob Plucinski and Tracy Windrum combine to score under the boards.

how Tim Sullivan kept losing his lenses during games when John Patten didn't know the score with two minutes to play, and a twenty point lead for Xaverian when Ricky DiCarlo put a game into overtime with two seconds left to play AGAINST ALL ODDS . . . Bob Harrington overcomes one of Monsignor Farrell's vigorous defenders to put up a hook shot near the end of the game.

BASE HIT . . . John Ryan shows his batting form in an early season game.

THE RACE AGAINST TIME . . . Jack Mannix is ready to grab the ball and put the tag on his opponent.

The past Varsity Baseball season was one of surprise and excitement. Finishing second in their league, the team was in contention for the championship right up to the last game.

Combining veteran seniors and powerful juniors, the Clippers were well balanced both at bat and on the field. The hitting attack was led by Richie Davis, Tony Cavaliere and Jack Mannix, while the top pitchers were Frank Cannizzarro and Ed Savold.

Although Davis, Cannizzarro and Cavaliere are graduating, Savold, Mannix, plus regulars John Conforti and Mike Genduso return. Add to this a first place J.V. and the future looks bright for Xaverian.

COACH'S COMMENT

"Although we had the best team in the league, a few real bad breaks cost us the championship. As it was, we finished second with a fine 14-5 record, beating the league champs, Saint John's, twice."

Mr. John Woods

DOWN THE BARREL . . . "Boody" Nikosey whips a fireball across for another strike.

Junior Varsity

This year's Junior Varsity baseball team proved to be one of the school's best. With a record of 12 and 4, the team took first place in the diocese division, and third in the city. Superb pitching was supplied by "Boody" Nikosey while Tom Kyle and Kev Toohill provided the backbone of the team's hitting effort. Although the team lost a 13-inning heartbreaker in the semi-final play-offs, the season was a good one.

This year's junior varsity bowlers won their second consecutive Brooklyn Queens bowling league championship with captain Ralph Battalione leading the way. The school received a plaque for the first place win while each member was awarded a trophy. A trophy was also presented to the group for a high team series score of 1778 pins. Battalione took first place in every individual prize winning category, but was only allowed to accept one, he chose the award for high average with a 172.

COACH'S COMMENT

"The J.V. nearly realized all of their ambitions: to win the league championship, and to gain 200 game trophies for everyone. Only two missed the 200 goal. The varsity improved their league standing over last year's fifth place to this year's third place, and at that only lost second place by fourteen points. All things considered, it was a great year."

COACH'S COMMENT ON THE SEASON:

"The Cross-Country, Indoor, and Outdoor seasons were by far the most successful in the history of the school."

Mr. Perrone

FOLLOW THE LEADER Junior Andy Fiore seems to be striding along well during a Cross-Country meet.

Track and Cross- Country

XAVERIAN'S BEST . . . The Varity Cross-Country Team takes time out to pose with the first place plaque they won in the Catholic Cross-Country meet. Kneeling: Ed Engler, and Jim Burns. Standing: Frank Stallacio, Steve Banovich, Joe Qungley, Craig Lewis, and Charlie Keller.

ALL OUT EFFORT . . . Strain is evident in the expression of Pete Neglia as he attempts to win the point quickly.

The tennis team turned in a very impressive season finishing with a five and three record. Because of the strong team effort and the leadership of Captain Pete Neglia, the racket men managed to take second place in Brooklyn and fourth place in all of Queens, Nassau and Suffolk.

COACH'S COMMENT ON THE SEASON:

"This past season's performance was the tennis team's best performance in their short history."

Continuing the fine tradition begun years ago, the tumbling team, under the competent direction of Mr. Sajecki, demonstrated their skill not only for the benefit of the student body, but for the public in numerous exhibitions. In addition to performances at hospitals, the tumblers were seen not only at Madison Square Garden but at Columbia University where the exhibition was televised. After an appearance at the New York State Student Activities Council Talent Show in the Spring, their season closed at the annual physical fitness tournament held in the school gym.

HEADS UP . . . front lines are checked carefully by referee Tony Cavalier in one of the many football games

UP FOR GRABS . . . the outcome of the jumpshot in this junior game is much in doubt as many attempts are made to block it

The success of intramurals is due to the large student participation. In the same way intramurals became more popular by the inception of hockey and billiards intramurals and by expansion of basketball intramurals to two divisions. These improvements not only increased the number of intramural participants but also intensified their enjoyment and improved their skills. Congratulations to moderator Brother Angelus, C.F.X., as well as athletic Co-Chairmen Tom Beyer and Pete DiConza

TIME MARCHES ON FOR . . . The Graduate . . . precious experience earned . . . prepared by the past for the future . . .
anticipating a new journey.

THOMAS MICHAEL MINCHIN
President

This year's president of the Student Activity Council, Tom was Xaverian's first representative at the annual New York State Association of Student Councils convention in Rochester, New York. As president he coordinated the various departments of SAC so efficiently that this year's Student Council was considered the most closely-knit and widely supported organization Xaverian students have ever had. Throughout his high school career Tom exhibited interest and participation in all school affairs. His warm manner and personality won him the friendship, as well as the respect, of seniors and underclassmen alike.

GEORGE RICHARD ELLARD
Secretary

As Secretary, it was George's job to write most of the correspondence and speeches for SAC, as well as to prepare the agenda for every meeting. In addition, George was also chairman of the elections committee. Although he held offices in three other extra-curricular activities, George claims to have received his most valuable experience from being an officer and four year member of Xaverian's nationally known Ryken Speech and Debate Club.

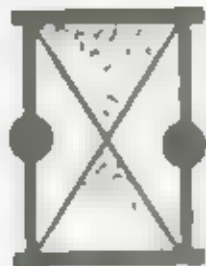

JOSEPH RICHARD FERRANTE
Vice-President

As Vice-President of SAC, Joe Ferrante's main task was to supervise all committee meetings. Ordering the senior sweaters was Joe's first accomplishment. He then became Senior Prom chairman and, together with his committee, organized one of the finest proms in the school's history. Before coming into office Joe had been president of his class for two years and a varsity tennis player since freshman year.

ANTON GEORGE HAJJAR
Treasurer

Treasurer of SAC, Anton was responsible for paying all bills incurred by SAC and keeping a record of all expenditures. At the beginning of the school year he also guided the school to unprecedented success in the Xaverian Brother's Auxiliary Drive. Although his was a full-time job, Anton still found time to coach one hockey team, captain another and, in general, help operate the entire league, which he initiated.

LESTER MARTIN HUNKELE

Cultural Chairman

As the Student Activities Council's Cultural Chairman, Les broadened the scope of his committee by introducing after school films, choosing varied assembly topics and initiating the use of a mobile library. His committee was responsible for assisting the English Department with its required reading, with the Shakespearean production of The Taming of the Shrew, and the Music Department in the Metropolitan Opera Studio presentation of the opera, Don Pasquale.

Officers and Committeemen

ANTHONY JOHN CECALUPO

Religious Chairman

Tony began his work as Religious Chairman by organizing the Senior Retreats with Brother Gavril. This successful arrangement was probably his most important job. Throughout the course of the year Tony was active in the Sodality and handled the Thanksgiving Drive and the SAC-Faculty basketball game. A class chairman for four years, Tony has also distinguished himself as a valuable member of the track team since his freshman year.

THOMAS ROBERT BEYER

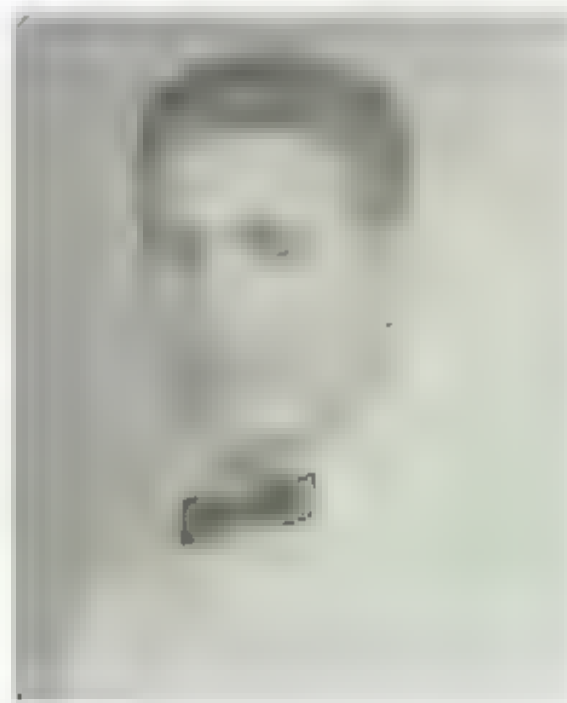

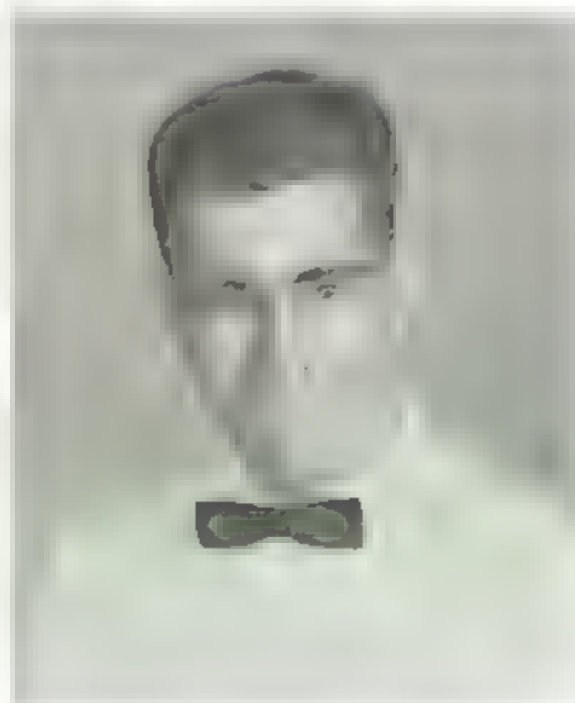

Athletic Co-Chairman

Hard work and long hours with both the school Athletic Department and intramurals influenced the appointment of Tom Beyer as Athletic Co-Chairman. Tom was the only sophomore to receive the School Service Award and in his senior year was instrumental in the general improvement of the intramural schedule.

PETER JAMES DiCONZA

Athletic Co-Chairman

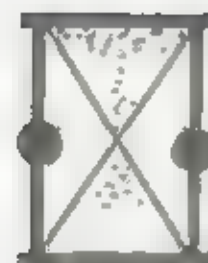

Pete's versatility in the field of athletics won for him the office of Athletic Co-Chairman. A clear indication of his school spirit is displayed by his reception of the School Service Award as well as his service as a class officer and intramural referee and participation in the History Club.

JAMES JOHN HARRINGTON
Social Co-Chairman

Known to all his friends as "Happy," Jim was appointed Social Co-Chairman after two years on the Dance Committee. Through hard work and enthusiasm, Jim and his committee ran the most successful dances Xaverian has ever had both financially and socially. Under his direction Xaverian had its first Rock 'n' Roll Show. Jim has also been a three year member of the basketball team and has participated in intramurals for four years.

Committeemen

WILLIAM THOMAS FENNELL
Social Co-Chairman

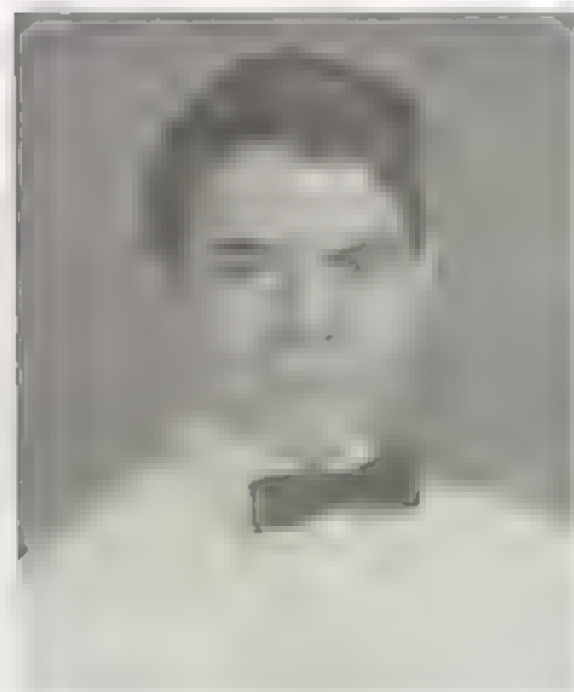

Bill became Co-Chairman of the Dance Committee after serving as its secretary for a year and a half. As secretary he handled inter-school relations and was responsible for the successful turnouts at the stag dances. A member of the tumbling team for four years, Bill is interested in gymnastics. He hopes to enter the Naval Academy in June 1967.

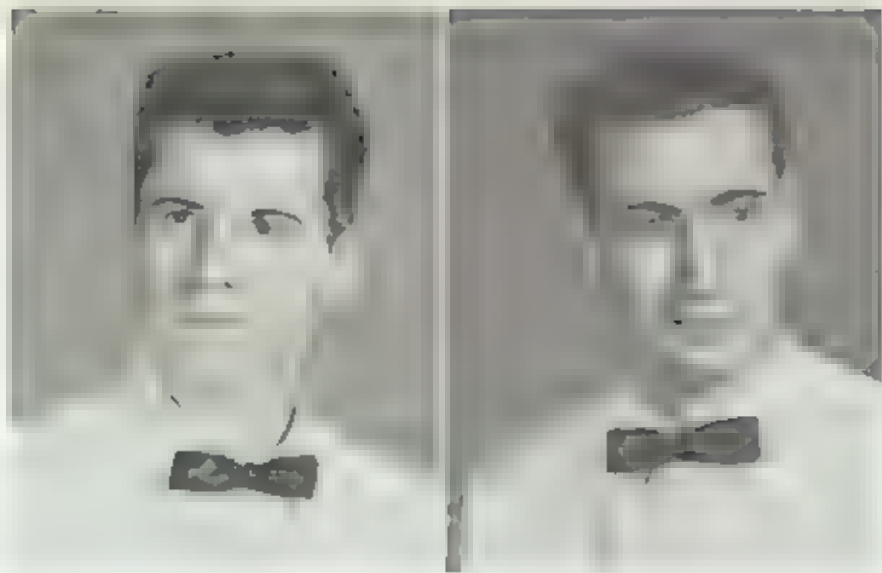

WILLIAM CHARLES BLINERT
Publications Co-Chairman

When SAC decided to institute a Publications Committee to keep the student body well-informed about all school activities, Bill, Co-Editor of the Local, was entrusted with the responsibility. During his tenure as Co-Editor the Local came out with increased regularity and coverage.

PETER MICHAEL DONAHOE
Publications Co-Chairman

Publications Co-Chairman and Co-Editor of the Local, Pete's three years' experience aided in the improvement of the paper. His editorials and stories awakened student interest in SAC, and his hard work helped make the Local a fruitful organ of SAC.

Last will and testament of the class of 1965

We, the graduating class of Xaverian High School, in order to preserve a compatible student-teacher relationship for posterity, do bequeath to the faculty:

An unabridged dictionary containing only monosyllabic words for Mr. Staples.

9' x 9' doorways for Brother Francis.

A six-months' course at Dan Lurie's Gym for Mr. Olzewski.

Three tons of Kentucky Blue Grass for Brother August.

An over-due library notice from the Tokyo Public Library for Brother Venard.

A Casey Jones outfit for Brother Stephen.

Three feathers in his nightcap for Mr. Poggioli.

A ticket to three thousand seminars for Brother De Paul.

A copy of the record, "I'm a Yogi," for Brother Angelus.

A six-months' course in how to play Russian Roulette for Mr. McQuillan.

Four thousand fruit flies for Brother DeSales.

A muscle shirt for Mr. Garcia.

Un film francais pour mon ami.

A book of small problems, minor difficulties, little questions for Brother Lucas.

A year off for Brother Patrick.

A three hundred pound cigar for Brother Elroy.

An autographed picture of Our Lady of Guadalupe for Brother Dean.

A toupee for Brother Gavril.

An ulcer for Brother Padraic.

Last and least, a faculty for Brother Kyrin.

CORNERED . . . As the year draws to a close, members of the Clipper staff bring some problem photos to Brother Dean.

"... for one is your Master and all you are brothers."
(Matthew 23:8)

"... and they had peace on every side roundabout."
(III Kings 4:24)

"Where two or three are gathered together in my name,
I am there in the midst of them."
(Matthew 18:20)

Retreat

"Guide me in your truth and teach me, for you are God my saviour, and for you I wait all the day."
(Psalms 24:5)

During November and February, Gonzaga, St. Paul's Abbey, Manresa and other retreat houses hosted the seniors on a three day closed retreat. The reason: "... to have a chance to ponder for a few moments on what it is all about, why they are living and what they really want." Christ had this in mind when He invited His young followers "... to come apart and rest awhile."

Although there were some scattered complaints about food and the daily schedules, it cannot be denied that the spiritual benefits derived far outweighed any inconvenience. Daily Mass, Benediction, meditations, and the opportunity to receive the sacraments offered the retreatants a chance to obtain countless graces. The quiet and solitude is designed to help the participants evaluate their lives, and in most cases, take a turn for the better.

"After that thou shalt come to the hill of God

(I Kings 10:5)

"Set food and drink before them, and let them go home to their master."

(IV Kings 6:22)

"... and let him who reads understand."

Matthew 22:15)

"Seek counsel always of a wise man."

(Tobias 4:19)

"Happy the man who finds wisdom, the man who gains understanding."

(Proverbs 3:13)

Magic Moments

THE DOOR IS OPENED . . . to a wonderful time for Artie Calhman and his date at the Senior Prom.

Love makes the world go round and the sun must have risen and set many times over the Waldorf-Astoria as the Class of '65 held its Senior Prom. While Joe Carroll's Orchestra provided soft and enchanting music, the white-clad Seniors and their gowned and gloved ladies danced away the evening. A quiet ride over the Verrazano Bridge carried many of the young men and their dates back to the school where they danced till dawn to the strains of Ralph and the Aristocrats. The hours passed all too swiftly and dawn breaking over the horizon brought an enchanting evening to a peaceful close STAIRWAY TO THE STARS . . . Robert Bruno and Joe Car-rature make their way to the Starlight Roof to enjoy an unforgettable occasion with their companions.

THE ENTRANCE TO WONDERLAND . . . Kevin Cullen and Rene Phaneuf check their reservations with Brother Benedictus in the lobby of the ballroom.

HERE SHE COMES. MISS AMERICA . . . there is little doubt that the most attractive group of guests was the contingent of young ladies from that land of gracious living, Staten Island.

A BEAUTIFUL REFLECTION OF THEIR DEEP AFFECTION . . . John Coughlin believes that if he can enjoy himself so much with one, it will be all the better if he doubles his fun.

YOU AND THE NIGHT AND THE MUSIC . . . lured on by the melodies of the orchestra, Andy Santulli and Joe Porpiglia introduce their lovely guests before beginning an ecstatic evening of enjoyment.

THE PRESIDENT AND HIS CABINET . . . St. President Mike Acciani, surrounded by his usual henchmen, shows a new facet of his many sided personality.

GOOD TIMING . . . the cameraman catches George Duryea, Rich Davis, Dom Ricci and John Ryan and their charming companions who typify the mood that pervaded the Starlight Roof of the evening of the Senior Prom.

SOME ENCHANTED EVENING . . . intoxicated with the melodious strains of Joe Carroll's orchestra, the future graduates share fleeting moments of enchantment with their dates.

Exhilarating enjoyment in 3/4 time

A TABLE FOR TWO . . . John Fahey enjoys the cuisine in the Gold Room with his lovely companion.

GROUP THERAPY . . . responding to the doctor's advice to "relax and enjoy yourself," a group of Xaverian seniors shows the effects of the fine treatment they received at the Waldorf.

AFTER THE BALL IS OVER . . . Anton Hajar and John Young and their guests savor for a last time the delights of the Waldorf lobby before departing to continue the evening's enjoyment.

TONIGHT, TONIGHT . . . and it's almost over as the seniors and their lovelies make good use of the dance floor on one of the last dances of the '65 Senior Prom.

HIGH POINT OF THE EVENING . . . as Vincent LaPresti delivers the Valedictory Address.

The great majority of this graduated class will continue a quest whose importance was first instilled at Xaverian. In a sense, these young men have not graduated, though, but commenced. For, as the salutatory address emphasized, they are going on, all of them, to a fuller meaning of the term "educated Christian gentleman": one expects that Xaverian High School has provided a valuable impetus to their quest.

Graduation

EMCIE . . . Brother Kevin conducts the graduation exercises with his usual efficiency.

A WELCOME . . . echoes through Walt Whitman Auditorium as salutatorian Arthur McMahon greets the students, faculty and parents.

THE CLASS OF 1963 . . . The graduates anxiously await the beginning of the Commencement Exercises.

FOUR YEARS WELL SPENT . . . Brother Medard presents a graduate with his diploma.

I HOPE WE'LL MAKE IT THROUGH THE EXERCISES . . . wonders Tom Ward as he looks up with doubt.

*This above all
to thine own self be true,
And it must follow,
As the night the day,
Thou canst not then
be false to any man.
Farewell.*

(Hamlet: I, iii, 82-85)

Thus Polonius counseled his son, Laertes, leaving Denmark for the University of Paris.
So too,
as the Seniors and their high school careers,
new lives are just beginning for them.
In college,
the Service,
the business world,
or wherever the future may take them,
May success and happiness go with
The Class of '65.
